5

- The ability to be part of a team dedicated to the health and welfare of the boys.

(3) The Headmaster is ultimately responsible for the Boarding House, but he delegates the day-to-day management to the Boarding Housemaster. The Headmaster spends time with the boarders and is involved in Boarding House staff meetings.

(8) There is an orientation programme whereby:

- All new boarders are invited to a New Boarders' Weekend (Friday/Saturday/Sunday) held in the term prior to the start of the academic year. A current Medbury boy is assigned to look after each new boy, both in class on the Friday and over the weekend. This is also an opportunity to meet parents and guardians.
- Boys not available for the New Boarders' weekend, or those who join Medbury during the year, are encouraged to visit the School prior to starting.
- Entrance testing is sometimes carried out during the New Boarder's Weekend or visit.
- Each new boarder at Medbury is allocated a 'brother' to look after him for the first few weeks, to show him the routines, to guide him through rules and expectations, to be a friend and to help him settle in generally.

- Each new boarder is given a copy of the rules booklet, which explains the rules, routines, standards and values of the Boarding House.
- All boarders belong to a 'squad' group of 4 or 5 boys, with a Year 8 boy as leader to help the boys in his squad and to report any concerns to boarding house staff. Boys are encouraged to pay particular attention to the welfare, background and interests of others in the squad.
- Boarding House staff members endeavour to get to know the new boys as quickly as possible.

(9) In relation to behaviour management:

- All boarders are subject to the Behaviour Management Policy. Various rewards are used to encourage positive behaviours. When a rule is broken, the boy is asked to state what he should have done and apologise; a minor consequence may follow.
- For a boy who regularly breaks rules, there is a behaviour 'step' system:

Step 1 First Offence

Warning by the boarding staff member. The inappropriate behaviour is made clear to the boy (and a note is made in anecdotal records.)
Appropriate action is taken.

Step 2 Second Offence

Discussion is held between the boarding staff member and the Boarding Housemaster. Appropriate action/ consequence is taken. The parents are notified.

Step 3 Third Offence

The Boarding Housemaster and Headmaster meet and the parents are contacted and an interview scheduled. This is followed up by a letter, a copy of which is placed on file.

Step 4 Fourth Offence

The Headmaster requests an interview with the boy, his parents the Boarding Housemaster and appropriate action undertaken.

- The Boarding Housemaster will inform parents of persistent problems. In the event of more serious disciplinary issues, a boy may move up more than one step. Any boy who is unhappy for whatever reason is encouraged to talk to a staff member, who will refer details to the Boarding Housemaster, or Headmaster if necessary.
- Parents are able to contact the school or Boarding Housemaster directly at any time. A meeting can be arranged to discuss issues.
